

Keep your event safe, legal and fun!

Here is a helpful list of considerations when planning your fundraising event, which will ensure your event is safe and legal.

First Aid

You can get advice from a professional medical company like St John's Ambulance or the British Red Cross about what type of First Aid to have at your event. Things to think about:

- the number of people
- type of event and risk involved
- type of people, including their ages
- location and type of venue
- how long the event lasts
- how the weather is likely to be
- how near is it to local medical facilities
- what experience you have of similar events
- what welfare and first aid facilities are at the venue.

Food hygiene

The Food Standards Agency provides guidelines for preparing, handling and cooking food. If you are using a caterer, you need to make sure they have a Food Hygiene Certificate and Public Liability Insurance.

Insurance

If your event involves the public, you will need to have Public Liability Insurance. Check with the venue first as they may already have insurance that covers your event.

Licences

Some things require a licence, such as:

- alcohol or entertainment, including recorded music
- holding a raffle, lottery or auction
- doing a public money collection
- putting up banners or signs in public areas.

This list doesn't cover everything. Contact your local authority to check which licences you will need.

Raffles and Lotteries

If you are holding a raffle and have low cost item prizes you have nothing else to do. If you have a single prize worth more than £200 or you are selling raffle tickets prior to the date of your event, you may need a license. Please contact your local authority and look at the website: www.gamblingcommission.gov.uk for further information.

Collecting money

- to collect money in a public place, you must get permission
- to collect in the street, you need a licence from the local authority, which will have some rules for your collection
- door-to-door collections are illegal without a licence. Speak to your local authority to apply for one
- to collect on private property, such as a shopping centre, you need permission.

Handling money and keeping safe

Here is some advice for handling money at fundraising events:

- where possible have two people around when money is being handled and counted
- collect cash using a secure container e.g. a sealed container for a collection or a secure cash box for change
- when carrying money around take care. Always use a safe route and always be with someone and/or carry a personal alarm
- if you are confronted by someone demanding the money, do not put up a fight, hand them the money straight away and report the matter to the police
- put money in the bank as soon as possible.

Children at your event

Make sure children are properly looked after and have permission to take part from a parent or guardian. Adults looking after children should have carried out appropriate checks. See the Government's Disclosure and Barring Service information for more guidance.

Suppliers or contractors

If you use external suppliers for equipment or services at your event, make sure you use a reputable company. Ask to see a copy of their Public Liability Insurance and risk assessment. If anything looks unsafe on the day, do not use the equipment or stop the activity.

Risk Assessment Guidance

Doing a risk assessment means looking at what could cause you or your participants harm and checking you've taken the necessary precautions to prevent this from happening.

It's a good idea to keep a record of the risks for your event, you can use our risk assessment template (appendix one) along with our risk assessment guidance (appendix two). You can request a copy of the risk assessment template and the risk assessment guidance by emailing info@caringmattersnow.co.uk

Data Protection

Any information you keep about people must comply with the General Data Protection Act (GDPR). It is illegal to use personal information without permission, and you cannot keep personal information any longer than is necessary. This applies to both computer & paper records. Full details can be found on the Institute of Fundraising website.
